

Bajra is the major food crop of Rajasthan. This millet can be grown in sandy soils under rainfed conditions and hence assumes importance in the arid region of Rajasthan. This food grain crop is also grown abundantly in the arid tracts of Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka, Maharashtra and Andhra Pradesh. It has multiple uses

