Finale, Allegro, PrintMusic, Finale SongWriter, and NotePad offer a full range of power and price to suit your notation needs. And best of all, you'll never outgrow the Finale family. View product comparison chart.

Files created using products of the same version number are interchangeable. That means users of NotePad, Finale SongWriter, PrintMusic, Allegro, and Finale can all share files with each other. Files created in an older version can also be opened in newer versions of Finale software.

So when you decide to move up to Allegro or Finale for more power and flexibility, everything you've learned and created is instantly usable. No data is lost, and you don't have to learn a new program.
