Cut the onions into thin slices and fry them in a flat frying pan, till brown and remove from the oil and keep aside in a saucer.

Pick and wash the rice, and strain the water out. In a vessel large enough for the rice, put the remaining ghee, and heat it, and put the rice, and stir frequently till it becomes brown. At this moment, put the meat gravy and spices and allow the gravy to come above the rice. If needed, add hot water, so that the same is 1" above the rice. Boil till the rice is almost cooked.

Then add the meat, and mix, and put the dish in the microwave oven, to remove the moisture, and cook it till done. Spread fried onion slices on the rice as garnishing.
