Kand Tikki is a perfect recipe to try when you are bored of potato-based snacks. In a smart twist, this recipe enables you to use kand instead of potatoes to make tikkis, especially in the winter, when this root vegetable is in season and you can't skip a visit to the market without buying some! The nutty taste of peanuts augments the rustic taste of kand, making this tikki all the more delicious. When making this tikki make sure the edges are smooth, otherwise, it might open up while frying. - See more at:
